Truth

HIRAM KELSEY,

All men of intelligence must look with contempt upon the dishonest efforts of the Know- arms: Nothing organs to magnify the strength of their candidate for the Presidency. The most notorious facts are ignored, and the most preposterous statements made to inspire courage in a desperate case. A man of common sense need only look at the position of the candidates and their parties, to decide, with certainty, in advance, where the con est will lie. The question in the free States is, thall Kan ascome into the Union with or without slavery, as the people may choose. The De-time to longer ask their permission to withdraw Resp'y, H. H. HARDING. mocracy, from Maine to California, answer yes, with an emphasis that all understand. To insure this result, the Missonri compremise was repealed, The Freewoil Abolition cohorts, under the lead of Fremon', say no. Kansas shall be a free States or no State at all. The power of the federal government shall be used to prevent the extension of slavery into Kansas.

The isene in that region le plain and simple, and few men will be found not on one side or the

But here comes Mr. Fillmore, with no position on this question; and his party has none. The South Americans would, perhaps, now take the affirmative, whilst the North Americans would take the negative. Their chief has said neither one thing nor the other. He is very decided that the rereal of the Missouri compromise was wrong; by it slavery was prohibited in Kansas, and ought to have remained so, Mr. Fillmore and his party North and South decise; but what do they propose to do about it? This is not revealed. Now the mass of voters in the free States have decided one way or the other. They will say yes or no to the question. It is a question of too great magnitude to be ignored or extended, which is the latest both shoulders on this issue. In the North, they a member of that party. deniunce sectional parties, and expect to gain credit in the South by empty werds and professions; but Kaneas must be made a free State; and then they firmly denounce the Missouri compreprice. The practical objects on the slavery question of the two factions in the free States are just the same. One states the object implicitly; whilst as freemen.

Yours respectfully, CHARLES RAVINSCRAFT, the other plays the hypocrite, and dissembles in denouncing Abolitionists and sectional parties, to will not be supported in times like these. people generally will understand the pretermitting, ignoring, eschewing, and all the mocking pro-publicane and North Americans. They condemn the Nebraska-Kansas bill, which is, in plain terms, asserting that the prohibition of slavery in Kanses ought to have remained. This is a full concession to the Black Republican party. It is all they desire to justify themselves. It admits that a wrong has been done, and they only seek to rectily the wrong. They can demand of the South Americans to aid them in providing a remedy for an admitted wrong; and there is no doubt the demand would be granted, if the party could achieve

This equivocal position on the greatest question row before the country, would crush out any party The whole mind of the North has been stirred up from the bottom on this subject, and they have dedict. Mr. Pillmore and his party may dodge about and mouth over empty words, but they will there-by loss daily the confidence of national monby loss daily the confidence of national mon.

Such is a natural result; it is what might be expected in advance; but we have, besides, now, a full demonstration of the weakness of Fillmere in the tree States. His prespects then are online as the irce States. His prospects, then, are quite as hopeless as Fremont's in the South. His running with the here and holding with the hound will not answer these times.

We, moreover, inform the Know-Nothings of the South, that they are dead in the South for a similar reason. They are dodging the issue, wearing two faces. They have traveled North since last year; they now denounce the repeal of the Missonri compremise. Twelve months ago, no party in this State would have dared to do so-When the Kansas bill passed, all our representatives in Congress, five Whige and five Democrate, voted for it; our two Senators, both Whige, voted for it. There was no voice in Kentneky against for it. There was no voice in Kentneky against it, except that of the editor of the Lonisville Jonral, notorious for his Abolition procivities. Last year, when it was published that a Know-Nothing lodge in this county was opposed to the Nebraska. Robertson, an old gentleman who had formerly that the sound and conservative platform of principles were indignant at the slander. By these emphatic professions we were satisfied that injustice had been done. How changed now! Their platform condemns the Nebraska-Kansas bill; their speakers condemn it; and this position is now understood as the general sentiment of the nearly in the South. They have kent had can pany evidently, and show the bad offects of evil party in the South. They have kept bad company evidently, and show the bad effects of evil associations. We expect to see the Know-Nothings are humbly confessing that the South American party, with Fillmore at its bead. NICHOLASVILLE, July 15, 1856. Mesers. The little fellow got ap and commenced by saying that he was an American, and had come here to vindicate the standard boarer of that party from the misrepresentations that had been heaped upon him by political demagogues.

The little fellow proceeded to discuss the pend ing issues now before the people, by denonacing the Kansas-Nebraska bill and the present administration; he said he objected to the bill hecause it held with the doctrine of equatter sovereignty, forgetting that Mr. Fillmore had signed a Territorial bill containing the obnoxious doctrine, squatter sovereighty.

It is a fast worth notice that the Southern Know-Nothings are advocating principles entirely foreign to the institutions of that portion of the country south of Mason and Dixon's line,

Shooting.—On Monday evening last, George W. Tudor fired twice at his brother-in-law, John Blanchard, with two small pictots. One ball either missed him or just grazed his shoulder, and was fattened against the brick wall of McCarty's stable, on Third street, in front of which the safray took place. The other ball struck him in the side and did but little damage—having, fortunately for Blanchard, struck a button on his pants. He was striking at Tudor with a heavy cane, at the time,
